To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation on the behalf of Romison Saint-Louis. Romison student taught one of my freshmen health classes at York Community High School in the Fall/Winter of 2011.

As I watched Romison teach my class I was able to see a beginning educator with great potential, and a refined self-motivated person. I can say that he has exceeded those initial impressions.

Romison is very loyal, and at all times very conscientious and cooperative. He demonstrated great ability in all phases in his teaching. He was very dedicated to all the tasks at hand, and his management skills provided an excellent learning environment for his students.

Romison was well liked and respected by the staff and his students. He possesses the honest qualities of leadership and efficiency. Romison has a tremendous educational background and his practical application of it was commendable. He has good knowledge of skills and techniques needed to teach in the area of Health and Physical Education.

Romison Saint -Louis is an outstanding young man. The strong points of his character would be a benefit in any school district. Romison has a great personality and is very professional in nature.
